"Other Fields to Glean."

Another year of toil and care in ou Schools has closed, and ten more added to the busy throng who have "other fields to glean." It has been a year of harmony with parents, teachers and classes and the results are apparent on every hand. No teacher can succeed when the pupil receives encouragement in disobedience from the parent however well qualified the teacher may be. This is something every parent should had who have the education and welfare o the child at Beart, and patiently and thoroughly investigate every complaint before a decision is reached and any expression of sympathy is made manifest. If it prove the fault of the teacher make this known to the proper authority, in a proper manner, and there is but little doubt but what the trouble will be corrected. If the trouble be found with the pupil adopt such methods as will prevent future trouble. Much, if not all the trouble arising in schools would be averted if this method is pursued. Prof. Dick, with his well developed physical and mental qualifications and habits of industry, has proven an excellent man for the position of Supt. stimulating habits of industry and proficincy in all the departments. All we ask is a plank that shall recognize the enormous evils of the saloon, de the enormons evils of the salson, denotince its corrupt influence in politics, and declare that as the evils directly affect the people, the late of the troffic should everywhere be submitted to the arbitrament of the people. This is all we demand at present. We believe there is a general feesing that the convention will meet the question in the right spirit. A large and influential deputation of astis-calous platform committee to urge the matter, and form committee to urge the matter, and we suggest that letters and petitions be sent to every member of the convention from Republicans of his own district or State asking for his influence for an sati-salous platform.—New York Independent.

MIKE PANNINGS SONG

The Harmonica Quartette of Nebraska sing a song entitled "God Save from Rum the Nation a Hundred Years to Come;" This was followed by snother, "Come off the Fence or Take the Comequence." This quartette had made a great hit at the moroing session with a song, of which the fol-lowing are the words written by M. J. Fan-

As some day it may happen That a vietlm mfint be found We've got a little list, We've got a little list, Of the liquor sympathizers
Who might well be underground, And who never would be missed, Fo, never would be missed;

"There's the Presidential aspirant, Who favors liberies law Who winks at corporations

Who for the beammer vote will snuh A Probibitionist. There'll none of 'em be missed, No, none of 'em be missed. There's the Democratic party We've got it on the list. We've get it on the list; Its time of holding office Is now counted by the hour— By Prohibitionists,

And barter off the weal of all

To gain a vote most vil

By Prohibitionists It prides itself upon its ag-But see care not for that At last we have an issue That will lay it out quite flat, You'll find in all its platforms A self-confusing clause,

Designed to catch the liquor vote, Gainst sumptuary laws. We'll send it to its resting place, It never will be missed, No, never will be missed,

We've got it on the list, We'll send it to the burying ground-

Republicans, you need not think We'll let you off scot free : We've got you on our list, We've got you on our list, For the sake of bolding office You'll to anything agree; Your chances you have missed; We've got you on our list. In your platform in Nebraska You promised to submit

An Amendment to the people-And then did not do it You boust about the record Of a party whose fair fame Has been tarniseed by your actions Ave bow your heads in shame For ligner votes you throw Away the Prohibitionists.
And so we must insist.

To put you on our list. We've got'em on the list.
They surely wont be missed—
Republicans and Democrats,
We've got them on our list. "And you, poor week kneed Christians Who vote not as you pray, We've got you on our list, We've got you on our list. You sacrificed convictions pure

You prate about Free Trade In wool, tin, iron, lumber, toys, Or maybe shout protection for everything but toys: You're fearful that the other crowd May trouble on us bring; For party supremacy
You spare the Whiskey Ring.
You thus by your own actions Keep your conscience in a mist, And get upon our list
